7. to implement effectively National Curriculum 2000, and to extend beyond this to deliver a well-balanced and enriching education, in line with the Primary Strategy, in which Religious Education holds a special place
8. to encourage respect for all people, regardless of religion or culture
9. to develop every child's self-respect, sense of responsibility and appreciation of the needs and worth of other people
10. to develop a caring and responsible attitude towards God's world, and a sense of awe at the wonder of creation.

Home School Partnerships

It is firmly believed that children's interests are best served by parents and school working together in partnership.

For several years now, parents, staff and children have supported our school Behaviour Policy and Code of Conduct, by signing the form attached to the policy. It is hoped that this home school partnership builds on this foundation.

We recognise that much education happens in the home and that parents and teachers have differing complementary educational and social roles which must operate in harmony in order to be most effective.
